

John	That's an opening bid of one sin from the man in the red shirt... Pauses bidder number 666. Pauses again after realizing what he bid. One sin? That's quite an unusual bid. Looks over to James quizzically. James shrugs. But who am I to judge. Ok I got one sin can I get two? Anyone?
Bidder 666	Holds up his card. Two sins!
James	Ok we've got two sins. Do I hear three – wait a minute you already have the high bid. You don't need to go any higher?
Bidder 666	I can if I want. In fact I bid three, four, ten, one hundred, one million, one trill...
John	Woo hold one a minute there mister. This is...well quite unusual... let's do this - What is your top bid?
Bidder 666	How about a centillion sins!
James	Ok we have a bid of a centillion sins. Looks over at John. Hey John what's a centillion?
John	A lot! I believe it's a 1 with 303 zeros after it.
James	Wow!
John	Ok we've got one centillion sins going once going twice... Yes sir, you in the back in the white, did you have your hand up? Yes? And what's your bid?
Bidder 7	Holds up His bidding card #7. The life of my Son Jesus who has never sinned.
James	Excuse me? Sir are you sure? Do you understand what you are paying?
