

Levi	Slowly enters the city park area and notices Jack sitting on a park bench. He walks over to him and peers at the chains.
Jack	Looks up at Levi. What'd ya want old man? Don't bug me. Get lost.
Levi	Levi sits down next to Jack Son? You...you can actually feel the chains can't you?
Jack	I said get lost old man. And ya I can feel the chains alright. Shaking the chains wrapped around his neck in Levi's face.
Levi	Names Levi.
Jack	Shaking his head and looking down Jack. Listen old man... Levi...I'm really not in the mood to talk. And why are you gawking at these chains?
Levi	Sorry Jack. Nice to meet you. It's just that I've never known anyone who could actually, I mean physically, feel and see the chains.
Jack	Looks up at him You don't make any sense. Why don't you leave me alone. No one can help me.
Levi	Jack, I know of these chains. You see I have been given the ability to see them. Many people are going thru life carrying chains like you. They just can't see them. They're not visible. But you, you can feel them and see them. Fascinating. Walking around the bench examining Charlie and the chains.
Jack	Are you for real old man? What are you some kind of psychic? Can't you see nobody else walks around with chains around their neck, just me. Now please get lost.
Levi	Hmm. I don't know why your chains are visible. But I can help you be free of them.
Jack	Getting mad now and almost yelling at Levi. That's good old man! I've had top engineers and experts around the world that can't help! But you - some vagrant - with not even enough money for shoes...you a street bun,...you are going to help me? Ya right!
Levi	Son? I really can help you. You see I have the key to unlock the chains.
Jack	Key? Excuse me Levi! In case you haven't noticed there is no lock! just chains. So I guess a key won't do much good now will it?

Levi	Jack you're not seeing it. That's all. Here look at the chain. See the links. Look, see this link? It's guilt.
Jack	What?
Levi	Guilt. Jack when you were young there was a house fire and you tried to rescue your sister but you couldn't save her could you? There's nothing you could have done but you still carry the guilt and condemnation to this day.
Jack	Jack now stands and moves away from Levi. Looking back at him and then almost running away but turning back to him. How? How did you know about the fire? Who are you? Jack now turns to audience and starts to cry and kneel down. Kathy...Kathy was only six... I was supposed to look after her...protect her...
Levi	Walks over to Jack and squats down by him. It's ok Jack, its ok. Look at these links: bitterness, addictions, many strongholds. I can see your chain is heavy. But you can be free. You just need the key
Jack	Standing and moving away from Levi again. What are you doing? I don't know how you know these things? How can you read the chain's links? Now Jack is almost accepting Levi. And he walks toward him now looking for hope. But there is no key hole What kind of key can help me?
Levi	Walks back and sits on bench. Jack follows. Pulls out a small wooden cross Here Jack. Here is the key.
Jack	Levi – you're kidding right? They say this new alloy is harder than diamond and all you have is a small wooden...wooden cross? Song starts fading in slowly: Chris Tomlin's "My Chains are Gone, I've Been set Free.

Levi	Jack look at me son let me tell you about this key. You see the power is not in the wood, the power is in the blood... Levi's voice trails off as they talk and lights dim. Song plays. As the lights brighten back up, Jack has dropped to his knees to pray with Levi. Then Jack he slowly stands up and raises arms into the air above his head. The chains drop off as songs is declaring "My chains are gone"
